

I think it's ridiculous to inhibit XM's ability to deliver "local-oriented" information including XM Traffic and Weather. I think these channels are a God-send. There's no channel on FM or AM that offers the quality information these channels offer. What is wrong with FCC lately? Are they going to prohibit anything that the public prefers?